

Moving¹ in the United States

Try to match the location with the correct house.

The City

Trevor and Emma live in New York City, one of the largest cities in the United States. Several million people live there. Just in one city! They meet in a café and they get married a year later. They live in the city for two years. Where do you think that they live? _____

The Suburbs²

Trevor and Emma decide that they are tired of living in the city because life is too hectic³. They think that it would be better to move to the suburbs because in the suburbs it is quiet, there are more parks and trees, and there is less pollution. They decide to move to the suburbs of Columbus, Ohio. Can you find this on your map? In Columbus, they buy a ranch house because it is not expensive. It is flat and has only one floor.⁴ They live there for one year.

The Suburbs Part Two

After one year they have a baby and they decide to get a bigger house so they could have children. This time they buy a new house farther out in the suburbs in a new community in St. Louis, Missouri. This house is bigger but it looks exactly the same as all the others on the street! They live here for a long time, until their children leave.

The Country

Trevor and Emma are tired again. They don't want a boring house anymore so they buy a farmhouse, in Montana, in the country. In the country there are many trees and there is no noise. They are happy. Can you find Montana on the map?

Uh oh...

They still live in Montana but now they have two houses! They still have the farmhouse but Trevor decided to build a teepee in the backyard so that he can sleep outside in the summer.

If you lived in the United States, where would you live, in a big city? In a suburb? In the country? In a teepee?
