Terrible Day in Indonesia

A terrible quake took place a few days ago in Indonesia. It was exactly on Saturday, May 27th at 5.54 am on the Indonesian isle of Java.

Everyone was sleeping when they were surprised by an enormous quake and they immediately went inland. This horrible quake was 6.3 on the Richter scale so it was very dangerous. Unfortunately, there were lots of victims; there were 5,400 and the number is still rising. There were 35,000 houses and buildings destroyed too. The injured were numerous too : more than 7,000 and 200,000 missing.

Now, people need lots of things, so many foreign countries are arriving on the spot. UNO, Saudi Arabia, European Commission and some others are helping them at the moment. But there is the Red Cross too. There are 400 volunteers and 87 doctors.

There are lots of accidents in this country like the Tsunami December 26th 2004.
