

The Ocean

MSC Napoli

Monday, January 05th 2007

MSC Napoli boat

Storm Cyrill which took place in the night from Wednesday to Thursday 18th January did damaged MSC Napoli boat.

MSC Napoli - 16 years old - left Antwerp and was normally going to Portugal. But it failed 100 kilometers off the north coast of Ushant because a crack at the level of the hull was caused by the storm. On the boat, there were 26 members of crew, all of them were saved without any wound. It transported 2,394 containers which contained 41,773 tons of helicopter helping members of crew commodity (1,684 tons were products classified dangerous by the OMT, and 1,700 tons of poisonous goods containing either perfume or chemicals, industrial and agricultural). And only 50 containers fell into water.

Today, we can still find remnants of fuel on the coasts of Brittany.

But they do every effort to clean it and the people are very happy because they can take the goods found on this coast.

Lilou Mac-RIBE